APPOMATTOX AND BUCKINGHAM TIMES
Established 1892
SOUTHSIDE VIRGINIAN—Established 1902
(Consolidated October 1, 1909)

Governor Trinkle has the sympathy of our people in his deep sorrow, occasioned by the death of his brother.

Senator Byrd has an exhustive article in the press of the State on the question of roads and bonds. He opposes bonds and favors a gas tax. Certainly the land tax is all the farmer will stand now, and in this county it must be speedily reduced Unless the Highway Commission can show its face and hand in these parts with a slice our road tax money soon we will wonder why the discrimination.

Mr. Wyant, the purchaser of controlling interest in this paper is expected to assume control after this issue.

Buckingham

Mr. John B. Boatwright is a very busy man here and added to the duties of his profession he will have to go to Richmond and attend to extra session of the legislature.

I spent several days of Christmas at Prospect and those people are seciable and pleasant to be among, but the little town is owned by a few wealthy men and they do not want the place to grow and will not sell any of their property.

I hear so much about the growth of the town of Appomattox that I must get up there and take a look at the place.

Buckingham county school board met here on New Year's day and they went before the Board of Supervisors and made it plain to the members that certain requirements of the State Board of Education had to be met in order to get the state appropriation, with the result that the Board of Supervisors agreed to render such assistance as will be needed from them.

While I was off on my visit last week an enterprising undertaker reported me to the State Registra of Vital Statistics as being away from home and he made the request that my position as local registra be filled by another man.

Mr. Wm. Lee Patteson of Buckingham and Mr. Drumheller of Prince Edward county, were both buried last week and both were veterans of the Civil war.

Mr. Charlie Garrett, Jr., of Farmville, has been exceedingly ill with pneumonia and his many friends rejoice that the crisis seems to be past and hope that he may not have a relapse.

Miss Mary Morgan having resigned as teacher of Ivy Hill school in James River district the position was offered to Miss Carrie B. Fitzgerald.

P. M. Jones' son had a special sale at their store last week with a special salesman in charge and they reduced their immense stock of goods considerably.

Mr. Maiherd J. Cox, whose death was recorded in this paper last week left his home farm to his widow during her natural life and then to his adopted son James H. Cox at her death.

Mr. Gordon Elcan went back to Blacksburg with R. S. Ellis and Preston R. Glover.

John D. Watkins is working as a grader in the association warehouse at New Canton and his son is bookkeeper. The association war house opened on the 9th and the auction warehouse opened on the 2nd. Farmers are anxious to close out their crops while prices are good and get busy preparing for the coming new crop.

I heard a farmer offer to give a man the shucks on his corn if he would pull them off of the corn.

I went over to historick old Hampden Sidney college and saw the immense new brick building, that has just been built and I was told that the slate roofing was purchased at the Buckingham Slate quarries.

The decline in the price of eggs has brought them within reach of some folks. When they were 55 each producers sold at many of them.

Rev. C. M. Warren and C. C. Harvey motored up to New Store church where services were held on Sunday.

Mrs. Groseclose is reported as improving and is still at John Hopkins hospital, Baltimore.

The Radio phone is serving to entertain the people at the high school building here.

Mr. Gilbert Allen is very ill at his home near Curdsville and is attended by Dr. Crute of Farmville.

Mr. J. E. Pearson of this place has formed a partnership with Mr. Charlie Jones of Dillwyn in the undertakers business.

How The State's 24 Millions Comes and Goes

THE AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS, THE WATCH DOG OF THE TREASURY.

Sixth Lesson In Virginia Government And Citizenship.

(By JNO. GARLAND POLLARD.)

The College of William and Mary is offering to our readers free tuition in its correspondence course in Virginia Government and Citizenship. Men and women of all ages may be enrolled by sending their names to Box 266, Williamsburg, Va.

Hon. C. Lee Moore, Auditor of Public Accounts.

Ranking with the Governorship in importance, is the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts. The value of the office to the state is greatly enhanced when it is held by one, who like the present encumbent, has for two decades been in close touch with the fiscal affairs of the commonwealth. This long experience enables him to forecast the effect of ever changing conditions upon the state's income and expenses, and to foretell the probable effect of proposed legislation on the state revenue. He is therefore a valued adviser to the Governor and to the General Assembly. Tax money is the life blood of the state and the Auditor is the physician who feels the state's pulse and takes its blood pressure.

Auditor's Duties.

The duties of the Auditor of Public Accounts may be briefly stated as follows:

He is the fiscal officer of the Commonwealth. All state revenue, except that from public service corporations, is assessed under his direction and supervision and in accordance with his instructions.

All state revenue, including that assessed against public service corporations, must be accounted for and be paid into the State treasury through his office.

All claims against the Commonwealth are audited and paid through his office, and he is empowered and required to refuse payment when he believes the claim is not a lawful charge upon the treasury.

He keeps all accounts of the Commonwealth except those relating to the literary fund and public debt.

He allows and pays all pensions to Confederate soldiers and their widows.

He must decide intricate legal problems bearing upon the assessment of revenue and upon the liability of the Commonwealth for claims presented for payment. In this, he may call on the Attorney General for advice, but he is not required to follow such advice.

Virginia Passes 24 Million Mark.

The annual report of the Auditor is a compendium of information concerning the State. It discloses the myriad agencies through which the state does its work and reveals the extent of our governmental activities so far as the same may be told in dollars and cents.

For the year ending September 30 last, Virginia's receipts were $24,149,195.75, and her disbursements were $23,702,209.94. This, of course, takes no account of public revenues raised and spent by counties, cities and towns.

How Our Millions Come.

The following table will serve to correct popular misconception as to our chief sources of revenue. Out of every $100.00 coming into the treasury, the following amounts came from the sources indicated:

1. Corporations (public service: railroads, etc.)	$ 13.43
2. Federal aid and other receipts for roads	13.38
3. Automobile license taxes for road	9.93
4. Income taxes	9.20
5. Personal property taxes	8.56
6. License taxes	7.11
7. Insurance companies license tax	3.91
8. Capitation taxes	3.71
9. Real estate	3.70
10. Taxes and fees for support of departments; other special funds	3.05
11. All other sources	24.62
Total	$100.00

Where Our Millions Go.

Out of every $100.00 paid out of the treasury, the following amounts were spent for the purposes indicated:

1. Public roads	$ 34.86
2. Public schools	22.37
3. Institutions, support, improvements, etc.	8.19
4. Hospitals, support, improvements, etc.	4.02
5. State boards, bureaus and departments	4.15
6. Public debt	2.98
7. Officers of government, salaries, expenses, etc.	3.55
8. Pensions	3.28
9. Criminal charges	3.15
10. Commissions to commissioners of revenue, examiners of records, expense and assessment of real estate, etc.	1.57
11. All other expenses	10.28
	$100.00

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Deciding Factor

Your selection of a bank is naturally influenced by its reputation for safety and conservatism, by the standing which it enjoys in the community.

But, when these qualifications are met, the courteous and friendly helpfulness of its service becomes the deciding factor.

In The Farmers National Bank of Appomattox you find recognized safety and conservatism in policy and practice—and you also find that atmosphere of cordial welcome, and that satisfying personal attention which make your contact with the bank most truly satisfying.

We pay 4 per cent interest on savings.

MAKING THEM AMERICANS

How few of us realize the importance of making over the foreigner—of implanting American ideals, ideas and common sense in place of socialistic and maybe anarchistic theories. It means a lot to every American citizen. This work and many other interesting activities of the Department of Labor are discussed in the twelfth issue of the series of beautifully illustrated booklets on Our Government which we have been distributing to representative citizens of this community.

If by any chance you have failed to receive regularly your copies of this series that has been so favorably commented upon, visit us today and from the limited supply on hand we will gladly complete your set.
